DATA

Please refer to the summary report (formerly known as the full report) cover page for details of the dataset used in the analyses for each key stage.

The Key Stage 1 final data represent data submitted to the Department for Education (DfE) by local authorities at the end of the data collection. The final data incorporates data submitted after the collection deadline.

The Key Stage 2 validated data reflect the outcome of requests for changes to the data that schools may have submitted during the September 2012 Schools Performance Tables checking period where these were received within the deadline and met Tables' criteria, and changes made as a result of marking reviews. The validated data may not reflect the outcome of any late or ongoing appeals, or of late-resolved maladministration cases. Please note that Ofsted are not able to amend the data that are published within RAISEonline.

RAISEonline contains a series of interactive reports which allow access to the underlying pupil level data that underpin the analyses contained in the summary report. If you think your analyses are wrong a first step may be to check these underlying data in RAISEonline in the pupil list reports. If you think there is an error in the analyses due to a miscalculation rather than the incorrect data, please use the 'contact us' facility on RAISEonline that you can access via https://www.raiseonline.org or email enquiries@ofsted.gov.uk.

RAISEonline contains a copy of the underlying data (called 'school's own data') that a school's RAISEonline administrator may amend pending the release of a later dataset. You will be able to see if the analyses for your school would change and can use analyses based on these data in discussions with school improvement partners and inspectors. This may be done via the 'Data management' section of RAISEonline. Please note that the changes will be to the school's own copy of the data and the published data in RAISEonline will remain unaffected.

AIM OF THE SUMMARY REPORT

The summary report is designed to help schools and inspectors to see how effectively a school is performing in terms of the achievement of its pupils. The report is made available to schools to help with their self-evaluation and planning to raise standards, and is used by inspectors to generate questions and hypotheses to explore during an inspection.

The summary report has been ordered into the following sections: school context, absence and exclusion, prior attainment, recent attainment, progress, and the Free-School-Meals/Children-Looked-After (FSM/CLA) narrowing-the-gaps analysis. For special schools, the narrowing-the-gaps analysis is accessible through the interactive reports only. Within these sections the ordering of data charts follows the general pattern: threshold data followed by inclusive measures, and cohort followed by pupil group measures.

MISSING KEY STAGE 2 TEACHER ASSESSMENTS

The Key Stage 2 reports now include the writing and English attainment and progress data for those schools whose teacher assessments were not received by the 13 July 2012 deadline and therefore, did not have the data available in the unvalidated dataset.

RAISEonline users should note that in 2012 writing teacher assessment scores have been provided and used to calculate English measures in RAISEonline, whereas in previous years writing test results have been used. Caution should therefore be taken when comparing these indicators over time.

The national figures quoted in the RAISEonline reports have been calculated based on unvalidated data. An assessment of the impact of including the missing teacher assessment data on the national figures for expected progress has been carried out and for the majority of pupil groups, there has been no change. Caution is required for indicators that contain relatively small numbers of pupils, where a difference is possible with the national comparator for percentage achieving expected progress. This includes national expected progress measures for "Other or no prior available", and small pupil groups such as special educational needs and ethnicity.

DEVELOPMENTS AND DATA PROCESSES

The categorisation of pupils eligible for FSM (free school meals) changed in 2012. Pupils are classed as FSM if they have been eligible for and claiming FSM at any time in the last 6 years. A new pupil-group breakdown displays the progress and attainment of pupils who have been in school throughout years 5 and 6 in Key Stage 2.

The value added (VA) measure takes into account only a pupil's prior attainment. The methodology was adjusted in 2011 to improve the predictive power and reliability of the model. In 2012 there has been a minor change to the calculation of confidence intervals for pupil groups. Full details of the methodology can be found in the RAISEonline library. The introduction of teacher assessments only for Key Stage 2 writing has also impacted on the VA model as writing is only given a whole level not a sub level.

The methodology used to calculate overall English has been changed to take account of the different way in which writing results are being assessed this year. Full details of this methodology have already been shared with primary schools and can be found in the RAISEonline library.

Absence data for special schools will be received by Ofsted during the spring term 2013. The data will be published in RAISEonline interactive reports during the summer term 2013. Following the release within interactive reports, the figures will be incorporated into the summary report during publication of the next set of data.

Key Stage 1 reports now include school and national figures for the Children Looked After pupil groups.

PERFORMANCE OF DIFFERENT GROUPS OF PUPILS

Green and blue highlights are used to demonstrate a statistically significant difference between the school data for a particular group and national data for the same group. Inspectors and schools need to be aware that this does not necessarily correlate with being educationally significant. The performance of specific groups should always be compared with the performance of all pupils nationally as well as the particular group nationally.

Extra care needs to be taken when considering the performance of pupils with special educational needs. The identification of this group at all levels varies considerably between schools and across local areas. The results reported will be influenced by the types of special educational need pupils have within a school and the approaches to identification of the local authority and school. Therefore caution must be taken when interpreting green and blue flags for these pupil groups.

When considering attendance and exclusions, although there are no significance tests flagged, comparisons should be made with all pupils nationally and not solely with the same group nationally.

GUIDANCE AND SUPPORT

If you require further information about the methodology used for producing RAISEonline reports, please view the supporting documents in the RAISEonline library accessible at the top-right corner of the RAISEonline screen, in particular the How Ofsted and DfE analyse your data folder. To view the whole spectrum of available documents, we recommend that you log into the system prior to accessing the library.

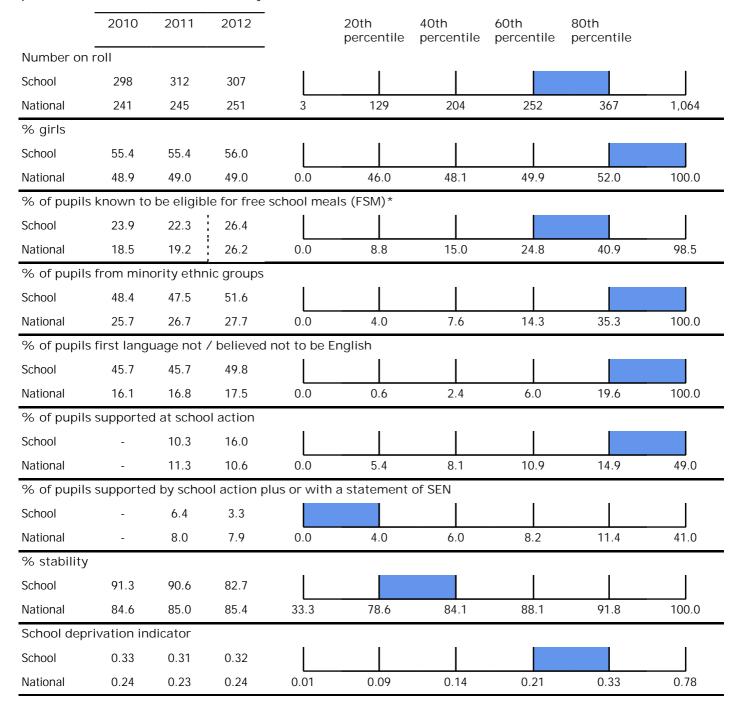

You may also be able to find an answer in the FAQ section of the library. Additional FAQs are available on the front page before you log in. Further information is also available in the help box within each interactive report. Please click on the Help? button near the top right of the screen.

If your query remains unresolved after trying these options, please use the Contact us facility on RAISEonline or email enquiries@ofsted.gov.uk.

Table 1.1.1: Basic Characteristics of your school

This section shows some key indicators for your school, together with national averages for maintained mainstream Primary schools. The information is based on the January School Census return, and shows three years' data. This allows you to compare your school's key indicators against the national picture for maintained mainstream schools.

For the current year 'quintile graphs' are also displayed for these indicators. These graphs are divided into five intervals, each containing approximately 20% of schools. The interval boundaries are shown below the line, and your school's position in the distribution is indicated by a shaded box.

The categorisation of pupils eligible for FSM changed in 2012. Pupils are classed as FSM if they have been eligible for and claiming FSM at any time in the last 6 years. The calculation is based on pupils in Reception to Year 11 and those pupils in special schools, who are not following the national curriculum.

Table 1.1.2: Basic Characteristics by National Curriculum year group

The table below shows some key indicators for your school broken down by National Curriculum year group. This table includes all pupils listed in the School Census, and therefore values presented below may differ from published figures.

NC Year Group	Number on Roll	% Boy/Girl	% Free School Meals*	% Minority Ethnic Group	% 1st language not English	% Special Education Needs	Children Looked After
Pre-Compulsory	82	39.0 / 61.0	-	-	-	3.7	0

6	29	37.9 / 62.1	34.5	41.4	41.4	24.1	0

Children Looked After is a count of the number of students who have been looked after continuously for 6 months (>=183 days) during the year and are aged 5-15. The information is based on the Local Authority return.

The categorisation of pupils eligible for FSM changed in 2012. Pupils are classed as FSM if they have been eligible for and claiming FSM at any time in the last 6 years.

Table 1.1.3: Ethnic Groups and English as a first language

The table below shows some key data regarding the ethnic composition and first language of pupils at your school together with the national averages for maintained mainstream schools. The information is derived from the ethnic categories recorded for pupils at your school from the School Census, and shows three years' data. Please note that figures are rounded and may not add up to 100%. Data on first language is only available from 2011.

From 2011, we are not displaying any information on ethnicity or first language for children younger than statutory school age. The data shown in the ethnicity and first language breakdown relates to children of compulsory school age only. This is because it is not compulsory to record these characteristics for pre-school children. The calculations for these characteristics are based on children of statutory school age or older and this has not changed. [Previously pre-compulsory children were recorded as 'Ethnicity not known'.]

School Level Absence and Exclusions - 3 Year Trend

The absence analysis shows the proportion of enrolments in the school who were classed as Persistent Absentees and the proportion of sessions missed due to Overall Absence. The analysis also provides a comparison with national average levels of persistent absenteeism and sessions missed, as well as the median trendline level for schools of the same type with the same level of Free School Meal eligibility. The graphs for Persistent and Overall Absence both apply to 2012. From 2012, persistent absentee data - absent for 15% or more sessions only are published. Data for persistent absentees – absent for 20% or more sessions for 2011 and earlier can still be seen in the trend report.

Please note that the absence analysis for mainstream schools is based on the combined autumn and spring term data for 2012. RAISEonline only publishes 2 terms school and national absence data in mainstream schools' reports and 2.5 terms in special schools' reports.

The exclusions analysis is based on 3 terms data for the 2011 academic year. The exclusions analysis shows the proportion of enrolments in the school who have been excluded for fixed term and permanent exclusions. The analysis also provides a comparison with the national average levels of exclusions.

The categorisation of pupils eligible for FSM changed in 2012. Pupils are classed as FSM if they have been eligible for and claiming FSM at any time in the last 6 years.

From 2012, '% of sessions missed due to overall absence' is displayed to one decimal place. This is to align the presentation of absence measures.

Table 2.1.4: School Level Absence by pupil groups

This analysis shows the proportion of enrolments in the school who are classed as Persistent Absentees and the proportion of sessions missed due to Overall Absence. The analysis also provides a comparison with national average levels of persistent absenteeism and sessions missed. From 2012, persistent absentee data - absent for 15% or more sessions only are published.

Please note that the absence analysis for mainstream schools is based on the combined autumn and spring term data. RAISEonline only publishes 2 terms school and national absence data in mainstream schools' reports and 2.5 terms in special schools' reports. For consistency, the national comparator for primary schools is also presented.

Table 2.1.5: School Level Exclusions by pupil groups

This analysis shows the proportion of enrolments in the school who have been excluded for fixed term and permanent exclusions. The analysis also provides a comparison with the national average levels of exclusions.

As School Census collects exclusions data two terms in arrears, this analysis relates to the 2011 academic year, which is the most recent year for which we have a full set of data.

Table 3.1.1: The Prior attainment of pupils in Key Stage 2

The tables below show the prior attainment in terms of Key Stage 1 average points score, of pupils studying at Key Stage 2 in your school in 2011/2012. This has been broken down by year group. The tables also show the national picture for maintained mainstream schools (the national average is based on matched pupil records from the 2012 National Pupil Database, and is not the same as the average score of all pupils who took the tests). When interpreting the tables the level of coverage should be taken into account.

Statutory testing of science in Key Stage 2 was discontinued in 2010.

In 2012, the Key Stage 2 writing outcome is based upon teacher assessment and the reading outcome is based upon an externally marked test. Full details of the methodology used for calculating the overall English outcome can be found in the Library.

The categorisation of pupils eligible for FSM changed in 2012. Pupils are classed as FSM if they have been eligible for and claiming FSM at any time in the last 6 years.

This report displays additional information about the teacher assessments of those pupils who were identified as operating below the level of the test and coded B.

The known teacher assessments are displayed as level 2+, level 1 and Pscales.

- A Pupil absent
- T Pupil unable to access the test
- M Pupil operating below the level of the test but teacher assessment missing

The Pscale information is shown for each pupil with the cumulative figures amalgamated to P1i or above and P4 or above

Pupils who have a Pscale in both P4-P8 and P1i - P3ii in a subject will be displayed in P1i - P3ii.

Statutory testing of science in Key Stage 2 was discontinued in 2010.

In 2012, the Key Stage 2 writing outcome is based upon teacher assessment and the reading outcome is based upon an externally marked test. Full details of the methodology used for calculating the overall English outcome can be found in the Library.

The categorisation of pupils eligible for FSM changed in 2012. Pupils are classed as FSM if they have been eligible for and claiming FSM at any time in the last 6 years.

Table 5.1.1: Key Stage 1 to Key Stage 2 value added scores for school, trend

Overall subjects value added: School analysis

This report provides the overall value added measure for the school relative to mean of 100. The school is placed within the national distribution to illustrate the range of value added scores attained by other maintained mainstream schools.

In 2012, the Key Stage 2 writing outcome is based upon teacher assessment and the reading outcome is based upon an externally marked test. Full details of the methodology used for calculating the overall English outcome can be found in the Library.

From 2012, the methodology for calculating the pupil group confidence interval has changed. The formula used now takes into account the range of scores for all pupils nationally rather than the range of scores in your school. Full details of the methodology used for the Value Added measure can be found in the Library.

Chart 5.1.2 and Table 5.1.3: Key Stage 1 to Key Stage 2 performance: value added and relative attainment

Overall value added and Key Stage 2 attainment

This analysis shows the school's attainment (average point score) relative to the national average (mean) and the school's value added score. Statistical significance tests have been performed on the data using a 95% confidence interval, and where the school value differs significantly from the corresponding national value for this group, sig+ or sig- is shown.

Table 5.1.4: Threshold Measures Key Stage 1 to Key Stage 2: Pupils Achieving Level 4+ in both English and mathematics

This analysis provides the number of pupils who achieved Level 4+ English and mathematics in 2012, grouped by their prior attainment at Key Stage 1. Statistical significance tests have been performed on the data using a 95% confidence interval, and where the school value differs significantly from the schools corresponding predicted success rate for this group, it is highlighted in green (sig+) or blue (sig-).

Chart 5.4.7 and Table 5.4.8: Key Stage 1 to Key Stage 2 fine grades value added: performance of groups within school - ethnic backgrounds

Overall value added

This report provides the overall value added score for particular ethnic groups within the school relative to both the national mean of 100 and the national mean for each group. Statistical significance tests have been performed on the data using a 95% confidence interval, and where the school value differs significantly from the corresponding national values for this group, sig+ or sig- is shown. This can also be seen on the graph where confidence intervals do not cross the national average line.

The definitions of low, middle, high are based on the Key Stage 1 results attained by pupils on completion of the key stage. Low attaining are those below Level 2 at Key Stage 1 (APS<12). Middle attaining are those at Level 2 at Key Stage 1 ($12 \le APS < 18$). High attaining are those above Level 2 at Key Stage 1 ($APS \ge 18$).

In 2012, the Key Stage 2 writing outcome is based upon teacher assessment and the reading outcome is based upon an externally marked test. Full details of the methodology used for calculating the overall English outcome can be found in the Library.

The categorisation of pupils eligible for FSM changed in 2012. Pupils are classed as FSM if they have been eligible for and claiming FSM at any time in the last 6 years. From 2012, the methodology for calculating the pupil group confidence interval has changed. The formula used now takes into account the range of scores for all pupils nationally rather than the range of scores in your school. School performance is significantly higher than the national VA figure for this group $\,$

School performance is significantly below the national VA figure for this group

In 2012, the Key Stage 2 writing outcome is based upon teacher assessment and the reading outcome is based upon an externally marked test. Full details of the methodology used for calculating the overall English outcome can be found in the Library.

The categorisation of pupils eligible for FSM changed in 2012. Pupils are classed as FSM if they have been eligible for and claiming FSM at any time in the last 6 years.

From 2012, the methodology for calculating the pupil group confidence interval has changed. The formula used now takes into account the range of scores for all pupils nationally rather than the range of scores in your school. Full details of the methodology used for the Value Added measure can be found in the Library.

School cohort figures are compared to the national group figures for non-CLA and non-FSM.

Significance is displayed for: all pupils against all pupils nationally; non-(CLA or FSM) against the national non-(CLA or FSM); and (CLA or FSM) against the national (CLA or FSM).

Caution should be taken when interpreting the analysis for small cohorts.

This report enables schools to compare the level of their CLA/FSM pupils' performance to the national level of non-(CLA or FSM) performance with the intention of encouraging schools to set more ambitious achievement goals for their CLA/FSM pupils. However, this report is also intended to encourage schools to further explore the performance of their CLA/FSM pupils by using the full range of data available in RAISEonline.

In 2012, the Key Stage 2 writing outcome is based upon teacher assessment and the reading outcome is based upon an externally marked test. Full details of the methodology used for calculating the overall English outcome can be found in the Library.

The categorisation of pupils eligible for FSM changed in 2012. Pupils are classed as FSM if they have been eligible for and claiming FSM at any time in the last 6 years.

From 2012, the methodology for calculating the pupil group confidence interval has changed. The formula used now takes into account the range of scores for all pupils nationally rather than the range of scores in your school. Full details of the methodology used for the Value Added measure can be found in the Library.

Table 6.1.2: Narrowing the Gaps Trend - Free School Meals and Children Looked After

This report provides schools with a time series displaying performance of pupils eligible for Free School Meals/Children Looked After for three key indicators.

Percentage of pupils attaining level 4 or above in English and mathematics at Key Stage 2

School cohort figures are compared to the national group figures for non-CLA and non-FSM.

Significance is displayed for: all pupils against all pupils nationally; non-(CLA or FSM) against the national non-(CLA or FSM); and (CLA or FSM) against the national (CLA or FSM).

Caution should be taken when interpreting the analysis for small cohorts.

This report enables schools to compare the level of their CLA/FSM pupils' performance to the national level of non-(CLA or FSM) performance with the intention of encouraging schools to set more ambitious achievement goals for their CLA/FSM pupils.

However, this report is also intended to encourage schools to further explore the performance of their CLA/FSM pupils by using the full range of data available in RAISEonline.

In 2012, the Key Stage 2 writing outcome is based upon teacher assessment and the reading outcome is based upon an externally marked test. Full details of the methodology used for calculating the overall English outcome can be found in the Library.

The categorisation of pupils eligible for FSM changed in 2012. Pupils are classed as FSM if they have been eligible for and claiming FSM at any time in the last 6 years. All data in this trend report uses this new FSM categorisation.
